If you have less than 24 points, you need an emergency change of MINDSET. Don't waste another moment before learning and implementing these ideas into your life right now.

If you scored between 25 and 50 points you are like many people who are dissatisfied with their lives because they are settling for mediocrity and having just enough to get by. Unfortunately, this group of people find it the easiest to stay "stuck" where they are. Is this you? There's not enough pain in your life to consider it an "emergency" (like the group above) so you just keep settling for far less than the life you desire or deserve.

If you scored over 51 points, congratulations! You're the kind of person who is already on the right track. You want the best from life and you know you deserve it. You expect good things and you're ready and willing to accept all that you can have, do and become.

Total up the list using the following point system:

- Unacceptable = Zero Points
- Fair = 1 Point
- Good = 3 Points
- Wonderful = 6 Points
